

Dear Technology Partner,

eDOC Innovations invites you to give your input. eDOC Innovations is the largest independent edoc solutions provider to Credit Unions in the United States. Annually, we meet with our clients, peers and other industry experts to discuss the future of electronic document management. This year that meeting, the Executive Advisory Council (EAC) meeting, will be held on October 25th in Grand Rapids, MI, at our Eastern office.

This year's focus will be the elements of a successful digital documents management strategy. As the name "Advisory Council" implies, the purpose of the meeting is to share the eDOC Innovation vision as well as receive information about your priorities and objectives. We then integrate the industry's needs into our plans for developing valuable products, effective services, and meaningful support solutions. In other words, your individual input really makes a difference since we are the #1 provider in our class.

How often do you get to make a real difference in the industry?

Please set aside this important date and join your peers and the industry experts at the EAC. Some important details:
